

BARING SECRET BEACH CACHES KEPT BY HAUPTMANN

BOAT HOUSE OWNER
John D. Dixon, above, boat house owner, shows property kept by Lindbergh suspect in locker at Hunters Island, Long Island Sound, New York. He rented it in 1932, as a "base" for his seashore frolics while kidnap hunt was on.

NIGHT HOLD GOLD NOTES
Federal men discover further evidences of Hauptmann's propensity for hiding things as he did the ransom money. He kept something stowed away under a tree at this play spot, the U. S. agents said, but he had removed it before they got there. (Pictures from International News Photograph Service.)

SNEAKERS MAY BE CLUE
With a possible link in the kidnap case depending upon footprints, these soft-soled shoes that Hauptmann used on his canoe expeditions were carefully examined. They had been kept in his boat locker.

HAUPTMANN'S SECRET CODE FOUND; LINDY SUSPECT'S MAY CONNECT

Continued from Page One

sign of the entrance made with such Teutonic thoroughness both before and after Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., was snatched from his crib and murdered on March 2, 1932.

TRIAL TO BE SPEEDED
District Attorney Samuel J. Foley said today that on next Wednesday he will submit a motion in Bronx county court for a special jury panel in order to get under way as quickly as possible the trial of Hauptmann, Foley said.

"About a week from next Wednesday we might go to trial," Possession of a pistol without a permit in New York State is subject to prosecution under the Sullivan anti-firearm laws. And Hauptmann told police he had hidden a pistol found by police in a recess in a two-by-four in the garage because he had no permit for it.

Foley was asked whether the Sullivan law would be invoked in Hauptmann's case, and his reply was:

"I think not, but it is always available."

Not until Hauptmann is brought to trial will the contents of the diary be divulged publicly according to Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey state police. And there was a suggestion that should the man be tried first in the Bronx for extortion, the document will be withheld for the more important charges in New Jersey.

This Hauptmann may have written his own conviction in the Lindbergh case was indicated with the new revelation and accompanying developments. Experts have declared that he alone wrote the ransom notes. And from his mother's home in Germany came information today of the discovery of "important material" bearing on Hauptmann's life.

In New York investigators continued their questioning of Hans Klopfer, one of Hauptmann's closest friends. At the same time, word went out to Hauptmann's companion on the much-publicized parties at Hunter's Island, in the North Bronx.

TRAIL MYSTERY GIRL
She was identified from a newspaper photograph as a girl who appeared at a New Jersey beauty party, almost hysterical as she spoke of a kidnapping and murder and of cash which she was in danger of losing.

Employees told police that she told them she was the recipient of a letter of $2000 and that someone was trying to steal it from her—men who would "kidnap and murder" for just that much money.

While the prosecuting officials of two states rounded out their three cases against the suspect, James M. Fawcett, counsel to Hauptmann, was laying the groundwork for his defense.

Dr. Thurston H. Dexter of the Wyckoff Heights Hospital, a pathologist, informed International News Service that he may examine the prisoner today. He said he would examine Hauptmann at the convenience of Fawcett and the authorities.

Hauptmann himself was under the heaviest guard since his arrest, this morning, as a result of the recovery of a spoon, broken into four pieces and disappeared, in the plumbing of his cell.

SUSPECT WATCHED
From the moment the carpenter entered the jail, special keepers have been under instructions to watch him constantly. Their eyes were not to be withheld for the more important charges in New Jersey.

The home of Judge Albert F. Hayden, presiding justice of the Roxbury court, but now sitting in Suffolk Superior Court, Dedham, was mysteriously entered last night, according to a report made today to the police.

Entrance to the house at 11 Wayne street, in the Grove Hall section of Roxbury, was gained by a rear door with a screw driver. The house was once the scene of a bomb attack.

The break was discovered by Patrolman John P. Ryan. A detail of police, under Sergeant Victor Sullivan, of the Dudley street police, in the Grove Hall section, was sent to the house and found that nothing had been disturbed.

The house was unoccupied, according to the police, because of the judge's custom of remaining at his summer home at Manomet until the fall in the season.

Although Judge Hayden has been the target of radical elements in the past, the police said that they did not believe the break was connected with him. They expressed the belief, on the contrary, that the house had been entered by burglars who were scared away for some reason before they secured any loot.

SLUTHS FIND HIDDEN CAN

Overlooking no possible clue, Department of Justice agents searched Hunters Point, where suspect asked a private "claim" and entertained friends on summer outings. The investigators uncovered three-foot holes in which there were containers, such as shown here.

Case Against "John" Suspect Weakens
By Associated Press
Chicago, Sept. 29.—The hope of Chicago police that they had nabbed the man who received the $20,000 Lindbergh ransom seemed fading today as Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan announced he could find nothing tangible to link Joseph Bowman with the crime.

Bowman, alias James O'Dea, an ex-convict and a blonde, were seized last night on an anonymous tip and was questioned during the early morning by Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the Chicago unit of his bureau of investigation. The government officer quit the detective bureau without leaving any order for Bowman's detention.

The police said the suspect bore a "striking resemblance" to the "John" glimpsed by Dr. J. P. Condon during the payment of ransom.

Chief Sullivan, however, admitted the link was "weakened" by the lack of any of the ransom bills in Bowman's possession and failure to upturn any other suspicious evidences.

Schwartzkopf Denies Search for "Mary"
By International News Service
Trenton, N. J., Sept. 29.—Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey state police, already to explain how their charge outwitted them.

Tony Veneri, former Chicagoan, was questioned in Denver. Authorities later expressed the opinion that he had no connection with the case.

Asked whether state police were seeking this "Mary" who was described as a woman who had, three days before the arrest of Bruno Hauptmann, talked about "kidnaping and murder"—Schwartzkopf said:

"We are seeking all the friends and associates of Hauptmann. We are questioning them about their friendship with him and what they know about him."

As a wife, the law gives you the right to refrain from testifying against him. But would you avail yourself of that right?

These questions are prompted by an interest in what is going on in the mind of the wife of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, the man under arrest as a suspect in the Lindbergh kidnaping.

There is no indication that Mrs. Hauptmann has concealed anything from the proper authorities. On the contrary, it is reported that she has disclosed everything she knew bearing on the case.

The Boston Evening American will pay $10 for the best letter on the subject, $5 for the second best and $1 each for the next five most interesting opinions.

Address your letter to the Lindbergh Editor, Boston Evening American.

Turtle, 119 Years Old, Captured
Plymouth, Sept. 28.—A turtle, at least 119 years old, was captured today by Civil Service Commissioner George M. Howland, and found the animal aged 119 years.

The date 1815, 1910 and 1928 were found carved on its back. It is thought to be a variety of box turtle, now almost extinct.

ishes no particular significance to the Lindbergh case.

Asked whether state police were seeking this "Mary" who was described as a woman who had, three days before the arrest of Bruno Hauptmann, talked about "kidnaping and murder"—Schwartzkopf said:

"We are seeking all the friends and associates of Hauptmann. We are questioning them about their friendship with him and what they know about him."

As a wife, the law gives you the right to refrain from testifying against him. But would you avail yourself of that right?

These questions are prompted by an interest in what is going on in the mind of the wife of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, the man under arrest as a suspect in the Lindbergh kidnaping.

There is no indication that Mrs. Hauptmann has concealed anything from the proper authorities. On the contrary, it is reported that she has disclosed everything she knew bearing on the case.

The Boston Evening American will pay $10 for the best letter on the subject, $5 for the second best and $1 each for the next five most interesting opinions.

Address your letter to the Lindbergh Editor, Boston Evening American.

AUTOPSY IN LINDBERGH CASE SILENT ON BULLET

But Doctor Insists Wound Indicated Possibility

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 29.—The possibility that a bullet caused the death of the infant Charles J. Lindbergh, Jr., was never reported to the state police in the official autopsy account, it was revealed here.

Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the state police, said the report he received from Dr. Charles N. Mitchell, Mercer county physician who performed the autopsy, did not even contain the word "bullet," Schwarzkopf exhibited the copy of the report he received to corroborate his statement.

Dr. Mitchell, however, showed reporters the account of the autopsy which he is keeping on file and that account mentions the possibility of a bullet wound several times.

Dr. Mitchell's file copy included the following paragraph:

"A suspicious opening one inch posterior to the right ear was found. The opening was one half inch in diameter, somewhat rounded, resembling a bullet wound. But on examination of the cranial vault, I could not locate a bullet, but a fracture of the skull directly opposite the opening could have been done by a bullet entering the right side (temporal) of the skull on the opposite side."

The bullet could have been lost in the transfer of the body (as brains were examined from the fontanelle and from an opening on the right side of the skull. There was a bloody discoloration on the inner table of the skull, and at the point of fracture on the left side, and the bones were not depressed which would be expected in such a marked fracture if the blow had come from some external source."

Jail for Children
Eldorado, Ill., Sept. 29.—Children under 18 found alone after the 8:30 p. m. curfew will be taken to jail and held until their parents call for them, police announced.

Wed to a Kidnaper, What Would You Do?

If your husband were a kidnaper, an extortionist, the killer of a child, would you protect him?

As a wife, the law gives you the right to refrain from testifying against him. But would you avail yourself of that right?

These questions are prompted by an interest in what is going on in the mind of the wife of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, the man under arrest as a suspect in the Lindbergh kidnaping.

There is no indication that Mrs. Hauptmann has concealed anything from the proper authorities. On the contrary, it is reported that she has disclosed everything she knew bearing on the case.

The Boston Evening American will pay $10 for the best letter on the subject, $5 for the second best and $1 each for the next five most interesting opinions.

Address your letter to the Lindbergh Editor, Boston Evening American.

LINDY'S PURE GRIEF WOULD TO STRICKEN FRIEND

By DOROTHY DUROS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1934, by International News Service)

Englewood, N. J., Sept. 29.—An amazing drama of self control and selfishness is being enacted in the stone mansion on the hill overlooking the Hudson here, where Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh and their son, Jon, make their home with Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's mother.

There, in the seclusion of the big house where Anne Morrow Lindbergh grew up, the subject which is separating the interest of half the world today is not discussed.

The person who are nearest to the tragedy of the little Charles Lindbergh have determined not to carry the world details of the capture and trial and punishment of the child's possible abductor into their daily family life.

This was learned from one close to the family, who painted an even more stoical picture. The family of the kidnapped and slain baby are devoting their thoughts today, as much as possible, to other people's troubles.

Instead of speculating even with their intimates as to the guilt or innocence of the man who is now in prison, the family has devoted itself to comforting one in their midst, who recently suffered the loss of a close relative.

It must not be supposed that outward casual denials even self-induced imprudence to the attention which bring them the sympathy of the public. At the time when a nation was preoccupied with anxiety in their behalf, the Lindberghs maintained a semblance of outer calm.

Even Anne, the distracted mother, never collapsed with the strain of those days of darkness.

And today, when the pieces are being fitted together, little by little, to make a picture of what really happened last year when a baby's fate hung in the balance, the courage that sustained her continues.

"How can they avoid talking about the solution of the mystery?"

"The mystery was solved when they found the baby's body," one friend replied. "However, I couldn't be certain they never talk of it. I only know that several very close friends who have been with them constantly have never heard them talk about it."

"What do they talk about then?"

"Little Jon—how healthy and strong he has grown ever since he was found. They can do for their friend, who has suffered a recent loss."

Another friend said: "You see, this family—well, they're all good soldiers."

Trade School to Open
Classes at the North Bennet street Industrial School will open October 18 at 7 p. m. It was announced today.

HOME OWNERS' JOIN OUR 1935 TAX CLUB
HOME SAVINGS BANK
778 Tremont Street, Boston

NEW TAX CLUB NOW OPEN
Deposits Weekly of $50, $1, $2, $3 or $5.

FRANKLIN Savings Bank
6 Park St., Boston
Interest Begins Oct. 1

Real McIntyre's Pathos, Humor, "Day by Day": Page 3

Listen, World! by ELSIE ROBINSON

TAKE THAT NEXT STEP
There's a desperate letter before me—just such a letter as you or I might have written in one of our black hours.

The writer of the letter has gone through a great tragedy and now life is to be faced again. But how? Many tell her how. They describe the great fight that lies before her. They exhort her to summon all her courage and steadfastness. They quote texts and send her lovely poems. But somehow, to the poor drained soul all this outpouring has no meaning.

It is only a great flood of words. She cannot cling to words. She wants definite directions to which she can cling. A recipe for getting out of sorrow as simple and practical as a recipe for making fruit cake.

That's what most of us needs, when the time comes to get out of sorrow. We feel that we're facing a great war against pain and discouragement. All our friends tell us that we are facing a great war. They describe vast vistas of action. But there is nothing left in us to fill those vistas. We are as empty as broken balloons.

How are we ever going to wage that war? Which step comes first? What is the exact procedure for mending a broken life? Our friends cannot tell us. They're strong on description but weak on detail.

YET THERE IS AN EXACT PROCEDURE FOR MENDING A BROKEN LIFE, AND IF YOU WILL FOLLOW IT, IT WILL ALWAYS WORK.
It doesn't involve a tremendous marshalling of one's resources to meet long, drawn-out emergencies. It is very simple and it works immediately. It is simply this:

IF YOUR HEART IS BROKEN AND YOUR NERVE IS GONE, DO THE NEXT THING.

Do not try to discover an act or formulate a new transaction which will make you whole again by one transaction.

JUST DO THE JOB WHICH LIES IMMEDIATELY BEFORE YOU.
Usually the "next thing" is a very simple thing. Making a pot of coffee, buying new silk chains. Tidy up your bureau drawers. Sending a suit to the cleaners, writing to Bill about that real estate deal. All of these things are "next things."

They are vital parts of the healing process for they are vital parts of life. They are the stuff of which new life is made.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

Life isn't made of huge decisions, tremendous campaigns, vast changes in attitude. Life grows out of small acts done day after day. It is made of "next things" each one trivial in itself, but absolutely essential to the whole plan. Just as each tiny root is essential to the life of the plant. These small acts are your roots—the grapping strength which your broken spirit will cling to, and which will make you whole again by one act.

HITLER LOVES JEWISH STAR IS REPORT

WIFE TO JOIN PONZI LATER IN EXILE

Mrs. Rose Ponzi will join her husband in Italy when he gets himself a job there.

At the East Boston Immigration station, Charlie Ponzi, "financial wizard" of a decade ago, revealed that plan to the Boston Evening American today, shortly after Mrs. Ponzi said she was staying here "because Charlie wants me to."

Ponzi definitely gave up his fight against exile to Italy on the ground that he lacked the $300 that would be necessary for fees to carry a final appeal through federal court.

He said he banked on his knowledge of the English language to obtain work in Italy—with the ultimate goal a reunion with the wife who helped him only a few months ago after he spent years in prison.

WOULD HELP AMERICANS
Seated in the office of S. H. Howes, district director of immigration and naturalization, Ponzi aired his views to a Boston Evening American reporter:

"First, I am going to see if I can get a secure occupation. Then I am going to send for Mrs. Ponzi."

"I wouldn't take her with me now and expose her to the risk of insecurity in a strange land. I have hopes that my knowledge of the English language will help me procure work, probably with some tourist agency, hotel or steamship company. I can help American tourists. I want to help Americans. I have no animosity toward Americans, in spite of my deportation."

Ponzi added that he held out no hope for executive clemency that would stay his deportation. The limit for the appeal he has abandoned expires Oct. 1. He expects to be deported two days later.

SHE FIGHTS ON
His wife was a bit more hopeful, or a bit more determined. She plans to continue her husband's fight against his deportation. She told the Boston Evening American today:

"I have done everything that a wife possibly could do to help Charlie. But at last he has given up hope and so have I. There is one last chance, an eleventh hour chance in either the plans of the government or on my own."

"I am going to do all that I can in the few hours remaining between now and the day when he is scheduled to be deported. I won't stop trying to help him."

"And if all efforts fail, I'll be there at the dock to say goodbye and wave to him as he is carried away."

"Not until then will I cease trying."

Daddy Finds Lost Rose

ROSE MARSHALL. ALEXANDER MARSHALL.

Rose Marshall, 3, wandering from her home, was picked up by police of the Warren avenue station, who took care of her until her father, Alexander Marshall, of West Brookline street, South End, located his little girl. (Picture by Boston Evening American Staff Photographer.)

'VIVA DUCE' RULES NOW

By Universal Service
Rome, Sept. 28.—The Fascist government has banned "Viva Duce" as the terminal phrase in business correspondence and in calling on the people to end such letters with the phrase: "Viva Il Duce."

From now on, by official decree published on the front page of all newspapers, every business letter must discard the formal or forced expressions of adieu and comply with the new rule.

STAGE BEAUTY LINKED WITH DICTATOR

By Universal Service
Paris, Sept. 28.—Ever since Adolf Hitler came into power in Germany the legend has been cultivated that he is too busy with affairs of state to give attention to any woman—but this legend is now the object of gossip attack.

The reason—according to travelers returning from Germany—is a beautiful young actress, Leni Riefenstahl, 23 years old, who seems to have attained to a remarkable degree of influence in the Nazi Reich.

The lovely Leni, in her official capacity, is virtual dictator of German films and the allied arts. The public knows her as producer of "The Blue Light" and "S. O. S. Iceberg" and she has her own daily film in a hundred places.

LINKED BY GOSSIP
Here are some of the observations recorded by travelers about the beautiful "Fuehrer" and the actress.

On the evening of the grand opening of "S. O. S. Iceberg," Leni—as well as Hitler—was at Nuremberg attending the Nazi party congress. Film chiefs told their tale, for how could the opening succeed if Frau Riefenstahl were absent?

The problem was solved when, half an hour before the performance was to begin, the huge silver-motored airplane of the Nazi dictator dropped down at the Berlin airfield—and Leni stepped out. The opening was a success.

QUITS STARS FOR LENI
Again, at a tea attended by Hitler and a number of movie queens, the latter plotted to catch the Chancellor's attention. One of the stars threw herself in the Fuehrer's path and the others surrounded him.

Hitler gradually stopped to chat with the ladies. But a moment later Leni made her grand entrance and she sailed in the Nazi Caesar turned his back on the flock of queens and strode over to her.

What causes most astonishment in that Frau Riefenstahl is half Jewish and makes no bones about it.

Mulloney, Deery Decision Monday

Daniel C. Mulloney, president of the closed Federal National Bank, and John A. Deery, head of the defunct Sales Trust Company, will face Judge James M. Morison, Jr. in U. S. court at 2 p. m. Monday.

Mulloney is charged with misapplication of $131,000 of the funds of the Federal National Bank in the making of a straw loan of $131,000 procured by Helen M. Ganley of Salem, niece of John A. Deery. The latter is charged with aiding and abetting the making of the loan.

Hitler's Heart?

Leni Riefenstahl, 23, Jewish actress, is linked with the Nazi Fuehrer by Berlin gossip. She is practically dictator of Nazi stage and films. (Picture from International News Photograph Service.)

POISONING LAID TO INMATE

Further examination of the kitchen containers in the Danvers State Hospital was made today by Dr. Clarence Bonner, head of the institution, as State Detective William Murray of the office of District Attorney Hugh A. Cragg re-visited the hospital today to complete his investigation into the death of a patient, Hugh A. Foye, of Andover.

A Hospital for the Insane inmate is under suspicion as the poisoner of the hospital sugar supplies, but a check-up of other food containers today by Dr. Bonner did not reveal any foreign substance in the receptacles.

Dr. Bonner said today that the hospital was awaiting the report of Dr. William F. Boon, who is analyzing the stomach contents of Foye in an effort to trace poison.

CLUE TO NAME OF BOY LEFT IN CHURCH DISCOVERED

By ARTHUR J. QUINN
The veil of mystery which has shrouded the identity of the five-year-old boy who was found in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross today was lifted by the Boston Evening American, and positive identification apparently awaits only a checkup by police.

Pending this checkup, the boy's name and the names of his parents are being withheld, because of the circumstances attending the case. But it has been established that the boy, who is being held at the Chardon street home here, spent the summer at Silver Lake, New York.

A reporter for the Boston Evening American, after questioning the boy for hours, caught the words "Newton" and "New Hampshire."

BOY RECALLED
He called Augustine E. Locke, Chief of Police in Newton, who said the boy's appearance closely resembles that of a youngster seen at Crystal Lake.

The chief immediately started an investigation. He said:

"When I first saw the boy's photograph, I felt sure I had seen him before. And now I am convinced that he was at Crystal Lake during the past summer. Officials here until Monday will establish the boy's identity. They are punning their hopes on the Silver Lake clue and with Police Chief Locke, believe the mystery has been solved."

By Monday, the time of keeping him at the Chardon Street Home expires and if he is not claimed by then, he will be committed to the state as its ward.

QUESTIONING HARD
Since he was found kneeling in prayer by himself in the cathedral last Sunday, the blond, bright-eyed, smiling youngster has furnished police with one of the most baffling riddles in the history of the city.

Slightly deaf and with an impediment in his speech, hours of questioning had failed to shed even a single ray of light on the mystery. Today, however, prompted by the reporter's questioning, the boy talked about his "Nana," believed to be his grandmother, his father and his mother.

RELIEVE MOTHER DEAD
His mother, it was gathered, is dead. His grandmother, he said, was the only person who had any love for him.

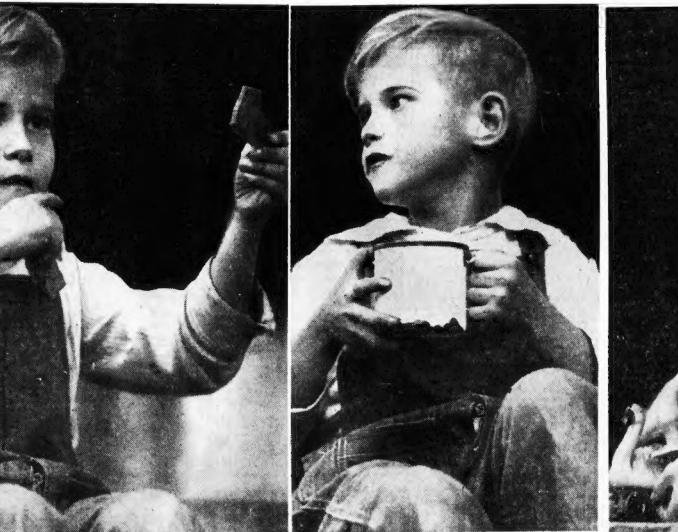

That his grandmother lavished affection on him cannot be doubted. His expressive eyes take on a new meaning when he talks—or tries to talk—about "Nana." Asked where his mother was, the boy replied simply:

"In Heaven."

The lad has an excellent training. The first thing in the morning he climbs out of bed and kneels in prayer. He says his prayers at night before going to bed. He recognizes and respects holy pictures and figures.

Winslow Becomes Norfolk Jail Head
The appointment of Maurice N. Winslow as superintendent of the Norfolk Prison Colony, where he has been acting superintendent since the removal of Howard R. Lyman, state commissioner of correction.

Mystery of Lost 'Church Boy' Pierced as Lad Calls 'Nana'

Identity of the five-year-old boy who was found kneeling in Cathedral of the Holy Cross was believed to have been established today through the efforts of the Boston Evening American. He is believed to have spent last summer at Silver Lake, near Newton, N. H.

As police run down the latest information the boy seems perfectly content at the Chardon Street Home where he runs and plays and laughs all day long.

The "boy nobody wants" has been supplied with toys to make his stay at the home more pleasant. Bright-eyed and smiling, the lad does his best to tell who he is. (Pictures by Boston Evening American Staff Photographer.)

O. O. McIntyre NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

New York, Sept. 29.—This is one of those bucking days when sticking to the saddle is achievement. The columnist, to scramble the metaphor, pings out a few drizzly lines, becomes completely stalled and sits staring. Then he yanks the sheet from the typewriter and starts again from scratch.

A dozen of these and one's head is a tightly stuffed pillow. You want to chuck it, but always there's that white space to be filled. Actually it is little more than a foot long but somehow suggests Lake Ontario. Sooner or later he will begin to— and— froing and straitlacing pictures.

An idea comes up like the proverbial leucop, like a trout. O. O. McIntyre to the fly. A rush to the typewriter and a flurry of hammered-out words and the drenching realization someone said it before and said it better. Another crumpled sheet goes flying. More window gazing!

Melancholy days have come. Melancholy for me but who else? Maybe it's a day for one of those pretty-pretty. Trailing arbutus, the drone of katydids and all that. Or a swing along the sullen docks or through Chinatown. But that's been done so often. So superbly. By my better.

Elbert Hubbard was plugging away one of those dull days when slip—it like that—he suddenly knocked out "A Message to Garcia." Bob Davis was suffering a similar vacancy when like the sudden uncoil of a watch-spring his song of the printing press raced Niagara-land from his pen. And daily writers over the land are straining for the same break—the sudden burning vision that lights up the literary horizon with a heat lightning shimmer.

That was an amusing letter today from a Poughkeepsie lady who had the rather general impression Theodore Dreiser was a dour curmudgeon. So, rogish from a pre-lunchcock cocktail, she approached him near the Ansonia, where he lives, and greeted him graciously. He smiled broadly, lifted his hat and so confused her she skittered off sideways spluttering: "I knew it wasn't true!"

The English book called "Chesapeake" was interesting. True tale of a London aristocrat turned mountebank, a fortune teller at the country fairs. In the jargon they are "lick-offs." Picturesque name. Street fakery always stood high on my hero list. Minor humbugging, it's often more entertaining than a 25 show. There was one every Monday in Cincinnati's Opera House whose housing fascinated Alfred Segal and me. He sold patented needle-threaders for the short sighted. Several years ago I recognized him among footmen on the mourner's bench at Tom Noon's in Doyers street. He was, ironically, almost stone blind. "But I've seen the world," he said.

Bert LaBr is reputedly the stage's most witty actor. We'd wager he's an excellent driver or an auto, if any. Statisticians show the majority of motor crash-ups are among the uncomical.

Trade lads: W. C. Fields is the funniest comedian alive. Doris Klayton expresses the most natural gentility of anyone on the screen. . . . Tullio Carminati is by far the handsomest and most convincing of the film's leading men. . . . The most youthful looking New Yorker for his years is George Aramby. . . . Clifton Webb is still the town's best dressed man.

Copyright, 1934, for the Boston Evening American.

Laugh with "Popeye" Every Day on the Comic Page

HAS NEAR $1,000,000

Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy has placed every able-bodied man and boy in his nation under arms, to train them in "a school of heroism and sacrifice and preservation of peace."

This he told H. E. Knickerbocker, famous European correspondent of International News Service, in an exclusive interview today.

By H. E. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(World Copyright, 1934, by International News Service. Reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

Rome, Sept. 29 (INS)—Right million, said Mussolini, leaning back in his chair and thoughtfully regarding his visitor.

Eight million soldiers. That is also his real answer to the question put to him once more after eight months of turbulence in Europe.

"What do you think now of the prospects of war?"

This was his first interview since he met Hitler four months ago. In those four months Hitler "cleaned up his storm troops, Dolfuss was murdered, the Soviet Union entered the League, and at the end Mussolini, convinced war was not to be avoided by agreement, decreed the total militarization of Italy."

FIRST TO MEET HITLER
Mussolini was the first European statesman to try to make friends with Hitler. He was also the first to be disappointed, and on the day the Nazis killed his friend Dolfuss, Mussolini was the only European statesman to go to the aid of Austria, and thereby saved Europe from war.

He saved it with guns—40,000 of them in the Brenner Pass. Their muzzles threatened Germany.

Today Mussolini told your correspondent for the "first" time what his program for the militarization of the entire Italian nation will mean.

"How much stronger will you be as the result of your new military law?" I asked him.

"Bismarck," he replied, with grave expression.

"But how much in actual numbers?"

"We have been able to mobilize 4,500,000 men. Now under our new law we shall be able to mobilize 10,000,000."

COMPARED WITH U. S.
What this figure of eight million soldiers under arms means, may best be appreciated by a comparison.

America, with a population of 130,000,000, mobilized four millions in the war. Italy under the Mussolini law will mobilize twice that with a population of 40,000,000.

Gloria Vanderbilt Taught to Mix Cocktails, Nurse Charges Mother Branded "Improper" to Rear Heiress in Bitter Court Struggle

New York, Sept. 29.—Supreme Court Justice John F. Carew will find himself like another Solomon come to judgment when the Morgan-Vanderbilt Whitney clan resume arguing on Monday about poor, little, rich girl, Gloria Vanderbilt.

Relative call Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt an "improper person" to rear the 10-year-old heiress to the $100,000 fortune left by the late Reginald C. Vanderbilt. They want to child to go to Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, the little girl's aunt.

Cross-fire of bitter charges characterized the opening session of the struggle to determine whether Gloria would be reared in a Whitney or in a Vanderbilt home. Mrs. Vanderbilt it was charged, tried to teach the baby the art of cocktail mixing, among other things.

Even Mrs. Laura Klatsch Morgan branded her widowed daughter, Mrs. Vanderbilt, as unfit to mother the baby.

There were accusations that the child threatened suicide rather than live with her mother, that Vanderbilt neglected Gloria while she gazed over Europe with gay crowd in gay parties.

Mrs. Morgan swore to Justice Carew that she would not let her daughter be reared in a Whitney home.

"Little Gloria was like a orphan. She was not wanted. My daughter devoted herself to her own gay pleasures. Her constant companion were people who were very gay. No daughter once wanted to put little Gloria in an attic to make room for guests. The men and women servants lived in the attic."

Gloria cried and said to me that if Mrs. Vanderbilt took her she would jump out of the window."

The plea of Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney for custody of Gloria, based on her conviction of love for the child, she said.

"I love the child as one of my own children."

After arguments over night, pale, lanky little Gloria were held in executive chambers by Justice Carew, who accepted the plea and adjourned the hearings until Monday.

KIDNAPING CHARGES
Mrs. Vanderbilt charges Mrs. Whitney—her own sister-in-law—kidnaped the child.

Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. Vanderbilt and Gloria appeared before Justice Carew and after the short session the child still in Mrs. Whitney's custody. She was frightened as she entered the chamber. She smiled as she left Mrs. Morgan was not present.

Ramifications of the case—it has shaken society from Deauville to Newport—stretch from 1924 to '34 and from a Parisian attic to American mansions, from a stuffy French studio to the Whitney drawing room.

Details of the drama of "the poor little rich girl" who was kidnapped by her grandmother turned on her own flesh. Here is the startling history of the tragedy of "little orphan Gloria."

Her mother, one of the Morgan clan, was a minor when Gloria was born February 21, 1924. Her father, "Reggie" Vanderbilt, died the next year, leaving an estate of more than seven million dollars.

George Wickham was appointed guardian for the child. Inherited from the dowager Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, she provided for her in a trust fund, but through a clever lawyer and a very young widow an annual income of only $1400, and his entire residuary estate, which was not fabulous.

Mrs. Vanderbilt—wife of the three

GLORIA VANDERBILT
Gloria Vanderbilt, $100,000 heiress, continues to be the storm center in a battle raging in a New York court. Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, aunt of the 10-year-old girl, started the legal fight in seeking custody of the girl. She charges that Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt, mother of the heiress child is unfit to rear her. The mother of the child is seeking the surrender of

MRS. REGINALD VANDERBILT
Gloria Vanderbilt, $100,000 heiress, continues to be the storm center in a battle raging in a New York court. Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, aunt of the 10-year-old girl, started the legal fight in seeking custody of the girl. She charges that Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt, mother of the heiress child is unfit to rear her. The mother of the child is seeking the surrender of

MRS. HENRY P. WHITNEY
Gloria Vanderbilt, $100,000 heiress, continues to be the storm center in a battle raging in a New York court. Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, aunt of the 10-year-old girl, started the legal fight in seeking custody of the girl. She charges that Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt, mother of the heiress child is unfit to rear her. The mother of the child is seeking the surrender of Morgan retains, and admitted the world over for her little beauty—went to France.

In 1932, Gloria lived with Mrs. Whitney, the sister of "Reggie" Vanderbilt. The strain on the golden boughs of the family trees began telling.

The mother, 29 now and delicately beautiful, argued that she couldn't support her baby on $1400 a year, a court allowed Gloria an allowance of $4000 a month from Mrs. Whitney's home. So Mrs. Vanderbilt filed a petition for habeas corpus, charging her sister-in-law had detained the child. Mrs. Justice Carew called for affidavits in a star chamber session and will decide the issue in open court.

Gloria's father provided for her in a trust fund, but through a clever lawyer and a very young widow an annual income of only $1400, and his entire residuary estate, which was not fabulous.

Mrs. Vanderbilt—wife of the three the building and back to the Whitney home.

AFFIDAVITS FRANK
The affidavits of the Whitney contention were amazingly frank. The first came from Mrs. Whitney who pleaded that Gloria was placed in her custody by her mother in 1932.

The child, she argued, was "delicate, high-strung and sensitive" she was sent to the Grosvenor school at Old Westbury, Long Island, and her health improved "with the exception of the recent nervous attack resulting from a visit to her mother."

Mrs. Whitney contended Mrs. Vanderbilt rarely saw her baby during the past two years. But on June 15, 1934, Mrs. Vanderbilt sought appointment of herself as guardian of Gloria's property and as sole guardian of her child. The case still is pending.

2 Lawrence Girls
Missing Two Days
Lawrence, Sept. 29.—Two young Lawrence girls, missing from their homes for two days, were the object of a statewide search today.

According to police, the girls, both 14, are Louise Addison, of Salem street, and Christine Lemay, of South Broadway.

Trolley Wagon Two Shoot Way Out of Jail CRASH HURTS 2

Richmond, Va., Sept. 29.—Guns blazing, two men under sentence of death here for the murder of Cecil M. Hubbard, federal mail truck driver, shot their way out of the city jail today and escaped.

They wounded two policemen and a civilian guard in the break. The escaped convicts are Walter Leezaux and Robert Mays. They were taken to the hospital.

The mail truck was found abandoned, five blocks from the jail. Passengers reported the fugitives and captured a private car and headed toward Newport News.

Legends in the city said that the fugitives had been in the city since the escape of the mail truck.

The gang was credited with a $200,000 blacking job in Richmond, a mail car robbery in Washington, and a mail car robbery in North Carolina. A mail car robbery in North Carolina. A mail car robbery in North Carolina.

Stamps Issued for Acadia Park

Mr. Harbor, Mr. Sept. 29.—The postmaster and his staff were delighted today with applications for Acadia National Park stamps, a special issue to be distributed by the post office.

Four special issues have been sent from Washington to assist in handling the issue.

Winthrop Estate Seeks U. S. Tax Cut

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—Recourse to the estate of Frederick Winthrop, formerly of Hamilton, Mass., who died in May, 1922, petitioned the board of tax appeals today for redetermination of an estate tax of $774,750.

Petitioners charged the bureau of internal revenue overestimated the value of securities held by the estate.

FASTER SPEEDS FOR SERUM TO SAVE SON

While his son lay at the point of death this afternoon in Atlantic, William Apt twice dashed to Boston, clearing the way for serum in a frantic effort to save his son.

The second trip was necessitated by the fact that the serum obtained here lost its strength.

Arriving back at the Sturdy Memorial Hospital, Atlantic, the first time after a wild ride, the feverishly hoped for serum was in time. But his hopes collapsed when he was informed the serum was not in time.

He lost no time in striking back again for Boston and this time along the route again struck the way.

The boy, John 13, is dying from blood poisoning from a broken arm. Both his arms were broken and his skull fractured in a fall of 30 feet in his yard on Duane street, Atlantic, Thursday. Duane street and the serum was needed to offset it.

The boy jumped from a suspended cable when he lost his balance while playing with other boys. Doctors said late this afternoon that there was very little chance of saving him.

PAKING RULES EXEMPT SOME OFFICIALS

Mayor Mansfield, police officials, employees of the treasurer's office, and all vehicles used by employees of the law department while on official business are exempt from the new parking rules which go into effect Tuesday.

Members of the Legislature who passed the bill, however, are subject to the same rules as the ordinary motorist, as are judges and policemen on emergency business.

Boston motorists today knew that the city was about to give them a "break," but they were wondering whether it would be a good one or a bad one.

This confusion is the result of the new law, which exempts some officials from the rules, but not all. It is to be left in the streets.

Indeed, the law made out a complete list of those who are exempt from the rules, and the third to the police, who are exempt from the "courtesy card."

OPEN FOR AUTO PARKING

By an emergency order of Mayor Mansfield, the following streets have been thrown open to one hour parking on Monday.

ATLANTIC street—Beacon street to Commonwealth avenue.

BEVERLY street—Causway street to Washington street north.

BOYLSTON street—Arlington street to Clarendon street.

BROAD street—Park square to Tremont street.

CONGRESS street—Dorchester street to Columbus street.

HANOVER street—Scollay square to Blackstone street.

HUNTINGTON street—Massachusetts avenue to Boylston street.

KNEELAND street—Atlantic avenue to Washington street.

MASACHUSETTS street—Beacon street to Newbury street.

NEEDHAM street—Causway street to Washington street.

SUMMIT street—Arch street to Dewey square.

WASHINGTON street north—Kensy square to Haymarket square.

ARCH street—Both sides, from Milk street to Franklin street, left side, Franklin street to Summer street to Haymarket square.

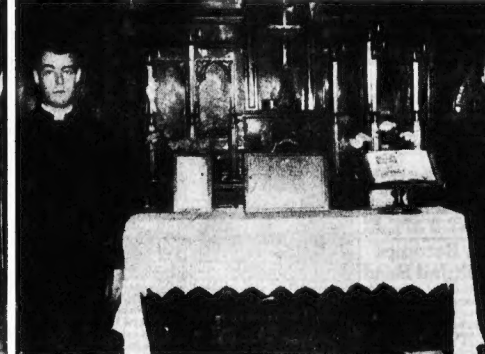

ASHBURN street—South side, Somerset street to Bowdoin street.

BAYVIEW street—Both sides, from Tremont street to Chapman street.

Services Held Here in Church on Wheels, in Charge of Greater Boston Priests

CATHOLIC CHAPEL CAR
ST. PETER
The Church on Wheels
VISITORS WELCOME
Aspirants of the N. C. Apo. Statue, North St.
REV. C. E. MURPHY

REV. THOMAS A. WILLIAMS
REV. CORNELIUS E. MURPHY
Interior of church on wheels. Skilled designing of the Pullman car chapel affords ample room for the conducting of religious services. Beside the altar are Rev. Thomas A. Williams and Rev. Cornelius E. Murphy, the priests who have been using the car in their work in thinly populated southern areas.

From Chicago, where it was on exhibition at the Century of Progress world's fair, the Pullman car church, regularly used by the Roman Catholic diocese of Raleigh, N. C., was brought here at the suggestion of Cardinal O'Connell. In charge of the church on wheels are two priests, both natives of Greater Boston. They are Rev. Cornelius E. Murphy, formerly of Malden, and Rev. Thomas A. Williams, for merely of Brighton.

Antients Get Royal Greeting in Ottawa

Ottawa, Sept. 29 (AP)—Under command of Captain Paul Curran, 200 members of the Ancient and Honorable Society of the Sons of Massachusetts in full dress uniform today arrived in Ottawa for the full day which will extend over the week-end.

They were welcomed by officials of the local chamber. Governor Curran, 200 members of the Ancient and Honorable Society of the Sons of Massachusetts in full dress uniform today arrived in Ottawa for the full day which will extend over the week-end.

They were welcomed by officials of the local chamber. Governor Curran, 200 members of the Ancient and Honorable Society of the Sons of Massachusetts in full dress uniform today arrived in Ottawa for the full day which will extend over the week-end.

HAUPTMANN IN JAIL: WIFE IN FEAR: BABY JUST PUZZLED

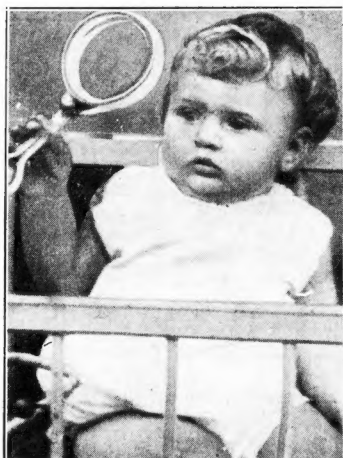

Mrs. Bruno Richard Hauptmann, wife of Lindbergh kidnaping suspect, and her 10-months-old son, Manfred.

From the Family Album . . . A picture of Hauptmann and the pet of the family . . . a little dog . . . Now that smile is gone.

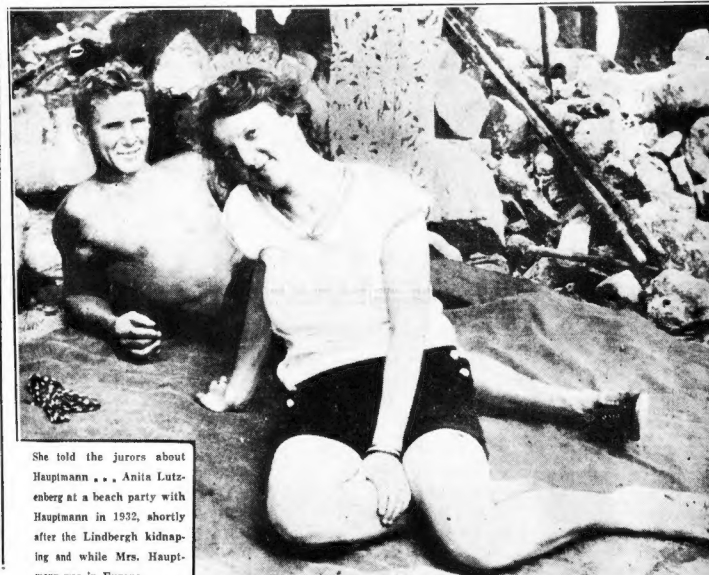

Another Hauptmann Album Picture . . . The kidnaping suspect and his wife, Anna . . . In a happier day . . . at the shore.

"That's right, now here's a rattle for you to play with . . . be gay. Daddy? He's gone."

"Look Manfred . . . Out the window . . . There's a plane . . . See it? . . . Some day, maybe, you'll fly."

She told the jurors about Hauptmann . . . Anita Lutzberg at a beach party with Hauptmann in 1932, shortly after the Lindbergh kidnaping and while Mrs. Hauptmann was in Europe.

(All pictures by Hearst Metrotone and Pathe.)

BERNARD BABBINS
He holds a box of chisels similar to ones sold Bruno Hauptmann in his store. These chisels were made by the same company that manufactured the one found at Lindbergh home.

VARIOUS STYLES, ALL MADE BY SAME COMPANY AND SOLD BY BABBINS!
Here are some of the various chisels that the Babbits carried in stock in their Bronx store. These tools were made by Buck Brothers—the company whose trademark appears on the Lindbergh kidnap clue. Both Babbins and his wife testified that Hauptmann bought only chisels made by the Buck organization while he was working for the lumber yard across the street. His purchases, they added, started about six months before the baby was found lifeless not far from his home. (Picture by Boston Evening American Staff Photographer.)

MRS. IDA BABBINS
She remembered Hauptmann's first purchase of the tools clearly, because "I mistrusted the man from the start!" In talking matters over with her husband, she said, she told him that she was afraid of Hauptmann because "there is something cold and brutal in his eyes!"

"Don't cry, little fellow . . . There, Dolly will wipe your eyes . . . And then I'll wipe mine . . . Oh, I wonder about Daddy . . . Mrs. Hauptmann is shown with her son in a moment when grief overcame her. The baby, too, burst into tears."

HOW TO FLY

A
FREE CO
of practical written for
by U. S. Gov

Aviation Exp

Here is a chance to learn aviation. Fifty-two carefully graded lessons arranged by the experts under the supervision of the Director of the Bureau of Air will give you FREE.

One lesson will be published and will give you in clear, practical foundation of real Aviation complete, authoritative and

WIN A SPECIAL CERTIFICATE

Every Junior Birdman course of fifty-two lessons is an examination to win an official Commerce certificate. And you can win it simply by signing the card on the Sunday Junior Birdman paper.

A FEW OF THE THINGS THIS COURSE WILL

First glider experiments—Pre-War progress—War gliders.

How to use the controls—How to land—Your first solo—Turns—Immelmanns and eight

Thrust and drag—The v
The fuselage—The propell instruments.

The winds—Air pockets—
Following the stars—Blind flying—Radio signals—
Learning to follow air
maps.

*Be sure to start
the course*

SUNDAY

SUNDAY
on the JUNIOR BIRDMAN
page of the
SUNDAY AD
Largest Sunday Circulation

Ranny Weeks
Tops Varied
Keith Bill

By HARRIS MORGAN

Ranny Weeks and his orchestra head an entertaining and colorful party at the Keith Strand this week, where a top-notch vaudeville bill shares honors with "Charlie Chan in London."

Edgar Wallace's famous Oriental character of Philip Weeks walks the screen in a series of scenes through "Charlie Chan in London." The intrepid detective is played by William Powell and the Honolulu police department is represented by the hands of that splendid actor, Warner Oland.

But it is the good old-fashioned American for the other side of the pond that is the heart of the story takes place in an old London in the East.

An innocent man, Paul Gray, is charged for a murder. His sister, who is charming and popular by day and night, and his friend, who is a famous actor, come to his aid. The story is told by Sam Mowbray, until the services of a famous actress are called upon to happen to be in London. There are only three days left before the trial is to be held, and yet the redoubtable Charlie, not only solves the mystery, but also and on the job at Geoffrey Richardson's, where the same thing was committed.

One of those colorful English characters, who are so much in progress; and one of the guests at the party, who is a very good play; Gray is indie. Just to make a point, he is a very good play. Biggers manner, another killing place.

There is a man who saved the doomed man in the nick of time, bringing him back to the stage, and making a consistently entertaining performance. He is a very good play. There are some examples of Charlie's humorous philosophy here and there, but it is not as much as it is sustained until the big finale when he is a very good play.

The stage bill is topped once more by Ranny Weiss, who is in the first place of the reviewer, since his leadership at the Bonaparte Hotel, and his very definite and challenging musical program.

This week he introduces "Wopology," a hilarious dinner and dance act, with a very good and Percival causing a laugh and a very good play. He is a very good play, with the aid of an imitator, and a very good play. A charming partner on the stage, provides further amusement as a very good play.

Amusements

Grand BANK

stage

The Funny Side of the Serious

BEN BLUE

with Joyce White
& His Comedians
Headling 1946
REVUE

The Voice of the Summer of 1946
THE SAILOR MAN
in Person

FADISH SEVITZKY

FREE DANCING!

★ MODERN
RAY FRANCIS-LESLIE HOWARD
"British Agent" & "On to a Million"

GLOBE LOON
LEAHY
"HELL'S HIGHWAY"
Richard Dix
"MANHATTAN LOVE SONG"
Roubt, Armstrong-Picke Lee

MINSKY'S BURLESQUE
Continuously 9:30A-11PM
25¢ & 35¢ - LADIES
NEW SHOW—MONDAY

THE PARI

MP
HEATRES

DORCHESTER—ROXBURY

MORTON ★ SHAWMUT

WARNER BAXTER—“GRAND CANARY”
GERTRUDE MICHAEL
“Haterious Sophie Lang”
MATTAPAN SQ.

ORIENTAL D.M. 1200

“DAMES” Relay
John Dick
Blissell Powell Kester
Lester

ROSLINDALE—JAMAICA PLAIN

WALTMAN
WALTMAN'S
"GRAND CANARY"
Lorraine Whitson - "STREET OF THE LANE"

ROCKWY

RIVOLI High 5:00
Duffy
Dick Powell-Ruby Kay
"YOU BELONG TO ME"
Lorraine Whitson - "STREET OF THE LANE"

WARREN High 5:00
Lorraine Whitson
"YOU BELONG TO ME"
Lorraine Whitson - "STREET OF THE LANE"

LIBERTY High 5:00
Lorraine Whitson
"YOU BELONG TO ME"
Lorraine Whitson - "STREET OF THE LANE"

SOMERVILLE
Mat. 3:30-2 P.M. Lorraine Whitson - "STREET OF THE LANE"
"HE WAS HER MAN"
Lorraine Whitson - "STREET OF THE LANE"

WALTMAN

EMBASSY CENTRAL 80
Ruby Kay-Dick Powell
"WILD BOSS"
"Mat. Sat and Sun"

'beacon hill' TWO DEBUTANTES MAKE BOW AT NORTH SHORE DANCE

By Betty Alden

THE SOCIAL SEASON has officially opened with the announcement that the Junior League activities are in full swing. . . . Mrs. John Yerxa, Arts and Interests chairman for this year, announces a series of symphony lectures to be given on the league ballroom at Zero Marlborough street on Thursday mornings at 11:30. These lectures will be conducted by Mr. Malcolm Lang, who will take for his subject the score of the symphony to be played on the following afternoon. Mr. Lang, who needs no introduction to music lovers, will interpret these lectures on the piano. Mrs. Samuel P. Sears is co-operating with Mrs. Yerxa and they have already sent out invitations to an interested group.

The first meeting and luncheon of the Vincent Club will be held at the Brookline Country Club on Thursday, October 4, at 1 o'clock. The executive committee will meet before 1 o'clock and there will be a general meeting after luncheon to discuss plans for the 1935 show.

The officers of the club for the coming year are Miss Barbara Reynolds, president; Mrs. Atherton Loring, Jr., first vice-president and chairman of the show; Mrs. Gardner Fiske, second vice-president and in charge of the program; Miss Elizabeth T. Soule, third vice-president and in charge of publicity; Mrs. W. Davis Taylor, secretary, and Miss Helen Homans, treasurer.

MISS ELIZABETH T. SOULE

Bridal at Leslie Lindie Chapel

HER MOTHER'S WEDDING dress of old Venetian lace with tulle veil flowing from a cap of rare rose point will grace the attractive Miss May Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gould of 66 Chestnut street, Beacon Hill, when she is united in marriage to Mr. Gibbs Wynkoop Sherrill, son of General and Mrs. Charles H. Sherrill of New York city, in the Leslie Lindsey Memorial Chapel today at 2 o'clock. . . . She will carry a shower bouquet of snowy gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Reverend Dr. Phillips Osgood will read the marriage service and her father will give her away. The chapel will be decorated with large clusters of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Margaret Field Tison of New Haven, Ct., will be her maid of honor and only attendant. She will be groomed in a medieval robe of velvet with matching hat and will carry an arm bouquet of pastel autumn flowers.

Mr. Robert Whiton-Stuart of Washington, D. C., will be Mr. Sherrill's best man and the usher corps will be Dr. Thomas L. Shipman of Andover, Mr. W. Webb Trimble of New York, Mr. James S. Bulkeley of Springfield and Mr. Albert P. Gould of Boston.

Heroine at Yacht Launching

MISS GOULD WAS PRESENTED during the season of 1930 after attending Miss Fontaine's School at Canaan, France. She graduated from Smith College with the class of '33 and is a member of the Junior League.

Mr. Sherrill graduated from Yale with the class of '31. Many parties have been given this week for the bridal couple, among them a luncheon by Miss Cornelia Tuttle, a tea given by Mrs. Samuel Lowrey and a luncheon by Mrs. John C. Willis.

The young couple will live in Boston after their wedding trip. Miss Gould was the heroine of the christening of her father's yacht this summer when the boat Segoch slipped down the ways before a bottle of champagne was broken on her bow. The fair debutante with great presence of mind plunged into the waves with all her finery on in time to break one of the dreaded superstitions of the sea, that of a yacht breaking away before its christening, and crashed the bottle across her bows before she rode the waves, amid the cheers of the sailors and 300 spectators gathered about. . . . Miss Gould swam back to the dock, changed her frock and served a christening lunch to her father's friends.

One of the season's most attractive debutantes, Miss Elizabeth Everts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Paine Everts, of Crafts road, Chestnut Hill, will be presented at a luncheon in the Colonial Room of the Ritz-Carlton on Friday, October 3. There will be several long tables at which one of the debutante's friends will serve as hostess, among them Miss Louise Harding, Miss Olivia Stone, Miss Ruth Edmunds, Miss Kathleen Maynard, Miss Barbara McKinnon, Miss Nancy Holdsworth and Miss Caroline Oveson.

Chatty Notes of Social Circles

THE first meeting of the season of the Infant Hospital committee will be held on October 2, at 3 p. m. at 300 Longwood avenue. Miss Evelyn Royce, the secretary of the committee, and Mrs. William Laidlaw, the president, will be very active in the proceedings at the first meeting.

Cards are out from Mr. Erickson of Milton for a dance for his third daughter, Miss Margaret East, at the Milton Club on October 11.

Following the marriage of Miss Ellen Pierce to David Cheever, Jr., on October 20 at 12:30 in the First Parish Church in Milton, there will be a small wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, the Rogers Pierses of Milton.

Mrs. Richard R. Humphrey of Jamaica Plain has arrived at the Weylin Hotel in New York for a

JUNIOR LEAGUER SERVES AT SHOW

MISS ELIZABETH B. ESMAN, known to her friends as Bethina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Esleman of Milton, helped a worthy philanthropic venture recently by serving as mannequin at an elaborate out-of-door fashion show. Miss Esleman is a member of the Junior League and Vincent Club. (Pictures by Boston Evening American Staff Photographer.)

Guild of Infant Saviour to Open Season

Meeting to Be Held at Copley-Plaza on Tuesday

STARTING ITS twenty-ninth year, the Guild of the Infant Saviour will hold its first fall meeting on Tuesday, October 2, in the foyer of the Copley Plaza Hotel, at which the new president, Mrs. William W. McManis, will be introduced by the Rev. Robert E. Barry.

Mr. Thomas C. Carr, will be the principal speaker at the meeting, which will follow the meeting at which Miss William W. McManis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. McManis, will be introduced by the Rev. Robert E. Barry.

Miss William W. McManis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. McManis, will be introduced by the Rev. Robert E. Barry.

Miss William W. McManis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. McManis, will be introduced by the Rev. Robert E. Barry.

Miss William W. McManis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. McManis, will be introduced by the Rev. Robert E. Barry.

Miss William W. McManis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. McManis, will be introduced by the Rev. Robert E. Barry.

Harold Palmer Estate Scene of Fete

THE spacious, rambling summer estate of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Palmer in Manchester was the scene of a large dance last evening, attended by all the young social set on the North Shore. The occasion was the joint debut of Miss Winifred Palmer and Miss Marie Le Moyne Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee of Beverly Farms. The house was lavishly decorated with clusters of autumn flowers and the numerous floral tributes sent to the guests of honor.

Miss Palmer stood in the receiving line in a shimmering gown of silver lace with green orchids, and her sister debutante wore deep pink crepe. Their mothers both chose gowns in shades of pale green.

The out of town house guests of Miss Palmer and Miss Stevenson, and a large group of their most intimate friends were entertained at dinner at the Myopia Hunt Club by Mr. and Mrs. Lee.

In the large group which gathered to greet the new buds were Miss Dalton, Miss Jeanne Palmer, Miss Cora Prosser, Miss Louise Harding, Miss Olivia Morgan, Miss Marian McKean, Miss Marie Russell and Miss Marjorie Salsotian.

Also Miss Margaret Deane of New York, Miss Doris Donner, Miss Ann Biddle of Philadelphia, Miss Caroline Baker, Miss Frances E. Clark and Miss Lucetta Osborne of New York.

Thomas G. Stevenson, Jr., headed the list of young men who assisted with the simple ushering tasks. He was assisted by Randolph F. Turner, Jr., Pierre Le Moyne Wentworth, George Bacon, Jr., Francis P. Sears, Jr., Robert Delano, Robert S. Wolcott, Henry S. Ballou, Richard S. Lovering, Jr., Charles J. Symington, Jr., William B. Levering, Meredith Whitney and Bayard Warren, Jr.

Wedding in Waban

IN A SIMPLY FASHIONED ivory satin gown, with a plain tulle veil and a bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia, Miss Hazel Radcliffe Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace D. Wood of Chestnut Hill, Waban, is being married this afternoon to Alden Briggs, son of Mr. G. Leving Briggs of Brookline and the late Mr. Briggs.

The ceremony was performed at four o'clock in the Church of the Good Shepherd in Waban with the Rev. Richard P. Lovell, pastor, officiating. Mr. Wood is giving his bride a diamond ring.

The bride attended Smith College and the Katherine Gibbs school in Boston. She was graduated from Harvard in 1923. His bride includes the P. E. Club and the University Club.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bates of Washington, D. C., is attending the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bates.

Debutantes to Portray Style Modes at Fashion Review

ADDITIONAL YOUNG WOMEN from this season's roster of debutantes who will mannequin at the "Smart Style Review" with tea, to be given at the Barclay Club on Tuesday afternoon, October 9, at 3:30, in the interests of the Charlotte Cushman Club, are Miss Martha Bird, Miss Lucie Hopkins, Miss Jennie Paine, Miss Frances Shaw, Miss Hope Blanchard, Miss Peggy Hardwick and Miss Jane Hamlin.

Also, of the young married group, the following have been enlisted as models: Mrs. William Whitcomb, Mrs. Lyman P. Guterson and Mrs. Cameron Thompson. Reservations are being accepted for this benefit at the Barclay Club.

Mrs. Malcolm Bradley French will be assisted in the receiving line at the tea at the Charlotte Cushman Club on Tuesday next by Mrs. William A. Gaston, Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, Jr., and other members of the board of the club who have returned to town for the winter.

There will be dancing at this reception, which will be given in honor of members of the cast of the Roberts company, and tea will be served in the spacious dining room on the street floor.

Mrs. Ezra Thayer, Mrs. Philip L. Sallou, Mrs. Leila Warren, Mrs. Hope, Mrs. Ralph Burkard, Mrs. Roland G. Hopkins and Miss Rebecca Hobbs have graciously accepted invitations to give the afternoon and they will be assisted by Miss Helen Grey, Miss Catherine Walsh and Miss Frances Shaw, debutantes of this season.

Mrs. Henry W. Berrill will direct the usher group which will include Mrs. Charles Cunningham Gray, Jr., Miss Polly Cutler, Mrs. Henry Warren, Mrs. Charles Hector, Mrs. Lyman P. Guterson, Mrs. Elsie Nason and Mrs. William H. Coburn.

Irish Music in Concert

Former Mayor James Michael, Curley and other city and state officials will be guests of honor at a music festival to be presented in Jordan Hall, Huntington ave., tomorrow evening by the central council of Irish County Association.

The concert, to which the public is invited, will commence at 8 p. m. with a large array of orchestra and vocal artists. A committee composed of the various presidents of the county associations is in charge.

Functions to be held at the Copley-Plaza next week include a dance of the St. N. E. Traffic Club to be held Thursday at 8 p. m.; a meeting and tea of the executives, daughters of the American Revolution, on Friday afternoon, and a tea-dance on Saturday afternoon to follow the Boston Harvard football game.

Dr. Albert H. Gage will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Boston Rotary Club next Tuesday afternoon.

A number of civic leaders will attend the concert to be held tomorrow evening at the Paramount Theatre by the Boston P. Edwards Post and Somers Post, American Legion.

A tea will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. William W. Bates, 100 Huntington Ave., in honor of the graduates of the American Revolution.

A number of civic leaders will attend the concert to be held tomorrow evening at the Paramount Theatre by the Boston P. Edwards Post and Somers Post, American Legion.

A tea will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. William W. Bates, 100 Huntington Ave., in honor of the graduates of the American Revolution.

A number of civic leaders will attend the concert to be held tomorrow evening at the Paramount Theatre by the Boston P. Edwards Post and Somers Post, American Legion.

A tea will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. William W. Bates, 100 Huntington Ave., in honor of the graduates of the American Revolution.

A number of civic leaders will attend the concert to be held tomorrow evening at the Paramount Theatre by the Boston P. Edwards Post and Somers Post, American Legion.

A tea will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. William W. Bates, 100 Huntington Ave., in honor of the graduates of the American Revolution.

A number of civic leaders will attend the concert to be held tomorrow evening at the Paramount Theatre by the Boston P. Edwards Post and Somers Post, American Legion.

A tea will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. William W. Bates, 100 Huntington Ave., in honor of the graduates of the American Revolution.

A number of civic leaders will attend the concert to be held tomorrow evening at the Paramount Theatre by the Boston P. Edwards Post and Somers Post, American Legion.

A tea will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. William W. Bates, 100 Huntington Ave., in honor of the graduates of the American Revolution.

A number of civic leaders will attend the concert to be held tomorrow evening at the Paramount Theatre by the Boston P. Edwards Post and Somers Post, American Legion.

A tea will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. William W. Bates, 100 Huntington Ave., in honor of the graduates of the American Revolution.

A number of civic leaders will attend the concert to be held tomorrow evening at the Paramount Theatre by the Boston P. Edwards Post and Somers Post, American Legion.

A tea will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. William W. Bates, 100 Huntington Ave., in honor of the graduates of the American Revolution.

COOK-COOS

by Ted Cook

The Committee of Five, real or imaginary, say this will be a long wordy or tedious with a long meaning write two, and

Most men writers lack the ability to think of something with a long meaning write two, and

THAT'S TELLING, MY FRIENDS!

Dear Editor: We noticed the well known game of the "Long Word" and we thought we'd try it.

Great's unimpaired enough to call it a "Long Word" and we thought we'd try it.

I would like to see in your next week's issue your answer to this.

Yours sincerely, M. G. C. Harris

After recent maneuvers, Italian military experts have decided that warfare is obsolete.

Maybe the whole thing can be made obsolete by degrees.

Just offhand, it's pretty hard to tell whether it's our economy or our divorce laws that have ruined the most men.

In political relations, there are seldom changing sides.

Labor-arm are all confimations, but red hot all denials.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

What you conservatives can never understand is that there wouldn't be no radicals if it wasn't for your conservatives.

And then there's the woman who has such perfect control of her temper she can always lose it just at the right moment.

Wives who find that their husbands are more like the dog than the cat.

Add a little more to the list.

Q. AND A DEPARTMENT

Dear Helpful Aunt Betta:

Will you kindly tell me if it is proper for a person who drops a fork or other utensil in a restaurant to pick it up? I think that it is more proper to leave it on the floor until the waiter or waitress notices it.

Ans.—I certainly do, baby. Especially if you're reducing.

A. Betta.

Join X-9ers; Get the Badge

Become a member of the X-9 club. Write your name, street number, city or town on plain paper and enclose five cents to pay for handling of badge and membership card.

Mail your application to SECRET AGENT X-9 BOSTON AMERICAN, Post Office Box 1006.

By return mail you will receive card and a new shiny badge.

THIMBLE THEATRE, Starring POPEYE

BRINGING UP FATHER

(FOLLOW JIGGS AND MAGGIE IN THE BIG COMIC SECTION OF THE SUNDAY ADVERTISER)

IOE PALOOKA

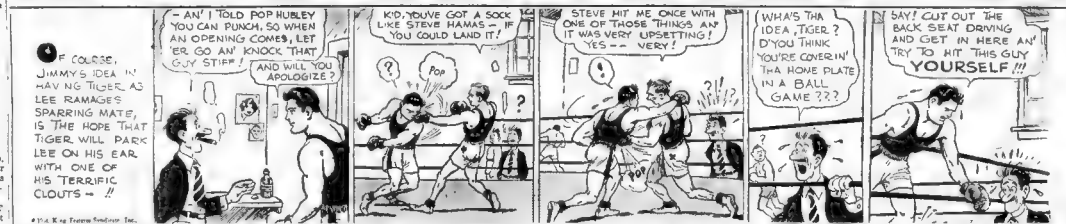

POLLY AND HER PALS

(FOLLOW POLLY AND HER PALS IN THE BIG COMIC SECTION OF THE SUNDAY ADVERTISER)

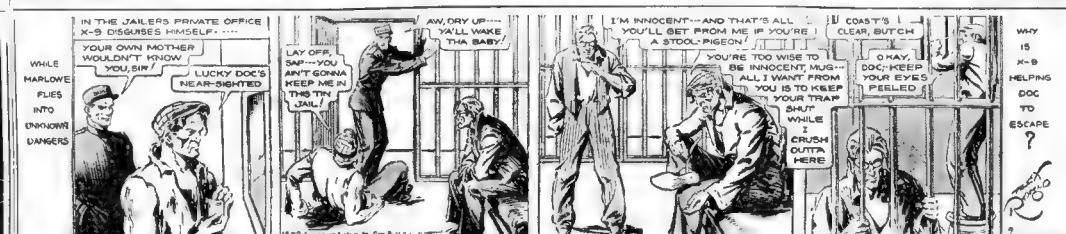

WAY OUT WEST

(FOLLOW WAY OUT WEST IN THE BIG COMIC SECTION OF THE SUNDAY ADVERTISER)

SECRET AGENT X-9

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

(FOLLOW TIM TYLER IN THE BIG COMIC SECTION OF THE SUNDAY ADVERTISER)

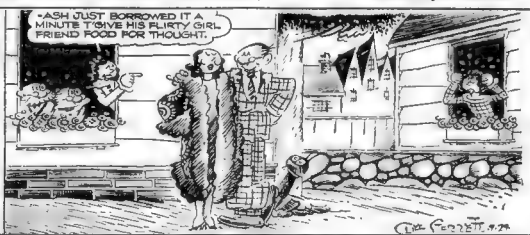

Silverware Missing

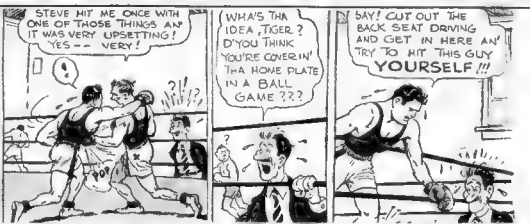

Dogs of War Grown

The Green-Eyed Monster

A Boxing Lesson

A Jail Break

Stepping in Society

The Deserted Village

CRAZZY JANE WILSON'S BEST BET AT ROCKINGHAM PARK

SUPPER PICKING RACE

Continued from Page One

Two races, has only to put forth his best effort in order to reach the winner's circle in the five-furlong of the fourth race here on Monday afternoon.

The Mrs. R. T. Phippen colt, however, was beaten right on the line a few days back by the first Blue Day in a swift run five and one-half furlongs. With nothing as formidable as Blue Day, he is expected to perform the daughter of Hasty's record may, in fact, be a good thing in order to top the verdict.

MAD BELL, CARMON, MISS HOSS.

Mad Bell is fully capable of handling a field of his own. The two-year-old has been showing to advantage against better ones in recent starts. CARMON, who has raced well at the recent Narragansett meeting, looks to be a good bet in this race. MISS HOSS turns in a good effort every now and then. It is a pity that she is one of her days.

TODDY WEST, HASTY BELLE, FREE ADVICE.

Toddy West was a victim of a bad luck with the first race, and behind Hasty Belle and Catty, he was a day's head. But if he is to be a factor in the race, he will have to show some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

FREE ADVICE, CATTY, HASTY BELLE.

Free Advice is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past. CATTY, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. HASTY BELLE, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

CRACKLE, CRACKLE, CRACKLE.

Crackle, who has been showing to advantage in recent starts, is a good bet in this race. He has shown some of the speed that he has shown in the past.

Other Race Results

AT CONEY ISLAND
First—Mayreen 108 (Hanka) 11.60, 5.20, 3.80; King Kelly 112 (Manford) 5.40, 4.20; Ben Minturn 115 (G. Arnold) 3.80, 0.01 3.06, Also ran—Dusky Lass, Bruster, Chipola.

Dark Hazard 103 (Fernandez) 7.20, 4.00, 3.00; Silver Blue 103 (Krick) 7.40, 4.40; Blondstone 103 (Huelsman) 11.00, 0.01 3.38, Also ran—Sir Hildur, Brillwin, Torch Lassie, My Paa, Prince Fuz, Najori, Lawful Miss, I-Ealcona, I-Ripper, (I-Field).

Third—Abdel 111 (Fernandez) 6.80, 4.40, 3.00; Yencio 106 (Huelsman) 7.40, 5.00; Long John 111 (Manford) 3.20, 0.01 4.00, Also ran—Flowery Lady, St. Jessica, May McDonough, Try King, Delma Dunny, Roulade.

AT WOODBINE
First—Herowin 115 (R Watson) 6.55, 4.25, 2.75; Betty Farrell 116 (Jelly) 6.50, 4.10; Velociter 110 (Black) 3.10, 0.01 2.35; Also ran—Maebae, Bubbling Out, Meridian Queen, Lady Hockberger, Uwira, Lullaby II, Colored Artist, Fern, Crimson Rock.

Second—Chortle 111 (R. Watson) 6.40, 3.20, 2.55; Rea 98 (C. W. Smith) 7.30, 4.50; John Robin 104 (Barnes) 3.95, 0.01 3.14; Also ran—Idle Victory, Brandy Snap, Top Law, Treasure Ship, Whipcrisp, Lady Marlboro.

Third—a Rock Lad 166 (Stella) 2.70, 2.05, 0.01; Celeritas 148 (Littell) 2.05, 0.01; Knocknarrigan 136 (Kennedy) 0.01 3.42; Also ran—Redshank, Crenalan, (A-Christie entry).

AT DETROIT
First—Good Aim 110 (Mattoli) 21.60, 7.40, 4.60; Mannie 114 (Hardy) 4.00, 3.00; Imperial Betsy 111 (Woolf) 3.00, 0.01 3.17; Also ran—Uall, Silk Mack, Changin' Ways, Easy Flight, Mah Grant.

Second—Sweerman 109 (Pichon) 85.00, 17.40, 10.80; Transpose 103 (Heber) 12.60, 6.40; Kalola 111 (Dobson) 6.00, 0.01 3.45; Also ran—Prefer, Stock Market, Burroo, Sun Worship, Well Built, Command-man.

Third—Ladino 109 (Calvert) 6.20, 4.40, 3.00; Pharo 102 (Farrell) 7.00, 4.80; Maystick 110 (Dabson) 3.40, 0.01 4.12; Also ran—Minnie Belle, Oederic, Terrain.

AT LINCOLN FIELDS
First—Full Tilt 102 (McGown) 7.10, 4.10, 3.22; Joe Macaw 107 (Sowley) 8.80, 6.68; Sister Mary 104 (Haas) 5.44, 0.01 3.10; Also ran—Renaissance, Bubbling O, Hamilton, Maynap.

Second—Brilliant Queen 104 (McGown) 3.76, 3.00, 2.54; Joseph J. G. 105 (Lindberg) 5.84, 3.82; Kwamudi 104 (McCray) 8.90, 0.01 3.46; Also ran—Cathedral, Lovick, Free Trade, I-Maco, Carnelian, Adirondack, I-Lucy, Swank Miss, (I-Field).

Third—Bichlorine 114 (Albrecht) 17.30, 8.28, 4.72; Chrystosm 114 (D. Edwards) 5.14, 3.80; Crackle 107 (McGown) 4.96, 0.01 4.13; Also ran—Bran Mul-fin, Tiny Kitty, Miss Melody.

AT AQUEDUCT
First—Golden Dream 106 (Porter) 6-1, 5-2, 6-5; Evasee 109 (Couch) 7-10, 1-3; Thorton 109 (Kursinger) 5-2, 0.01 2.40; Also ran—Fountain Pen, First Roundup, D-Duntio, Airline, Crete, Z-list rider.

Second—St. Francis 147 (White) 9-10, 1-4, 0.01; White Lightning 122 (Leonard) 5-2, 4-5; Rocket 140 (Chrishan) 2-5, 0.01 3.02; Also ran—Jungle Dawn, Fortis.

Third—King Saxon 118 (Arcaro) 4-5, 1-4, 0.01; Dusky Princess 105 (Kursinger) 4-5, 0.01; Toney Fastop 105 (Litzemberger) 0.01 3.33; Also ran—Okapi.

Fourth—a Sailor Beware 116 (Workman) 16-5, 7-10, 0.01; Omaha 111 (Kursinger) 1-3, 0.01; Abner 111 (Arcaro) 0.01 4.02; Also ran—Cheshire, Sound Advice, (A-Greentree entry).

AT HAVRE DE GRACE
First—Hilse 107 (Meade) 7.00, 4.40, 2.90; Brindle 111 (Sullivan) 9.90, 4.20; Witlan 114 (Gilbert) 2.60, 0.01 3.21; Also ran—Slegal, By Surprise, Barnstormer, Sea Finn, Dixie Princess, Fast Past, Jince.

Second—Kawage 104 (McManus) 27.10, 5.80, 2.90; a-Drel 107 (Knapp) 2.40, 2.10; Dartie 107 (Gilbert) 2.60, 0.01 3.54; Also ran—My Counsellor, Him Torque, a-Red Wagon, Golden Spur, a-Vanderbilt entry.

Third—Arab 110 (H. Edwards) 17.00, 9.60, 6.30; Mad Eagle 106 (J. Renick) 7.10, 4.70; Buntino 109 (Hunter) 4.40, 0.01 4.30; Also ran—The Tout, Plain Ace, True John, a-Small Change, a-Rustic Cuba, Corvine, My Scotch, Repeal, (A-Bond entry).

AT BEULAH PARK
First—Mete Satin 111 (Walters) 51.60, 18.00, 7.60; Lashaway 107 (Ralls) 12.40, 7.20; Wise Baby 111 (Erwin) 3.40, 0.01 3.23; Also ran—Miss T, Costlier, Title McGee, B. Walsh, King Crusader, Celinear, Our Bessie.

Continued on First Page

4 STRAIGHT AT SALEM

By Bill Corum

New York, Sept. 28.—It is a story that has been told in the past, but it is a story that is being told again. It is the story of a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Dave Egan

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

Corum Defends Giants' Leader

New York Fans Rooting for Cards to Win Pennant

By Bill Corum

New York, Sept. 28.—It is a story that has been told in the past, but it is a story that is being told again. It is the story of a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Dave Egan

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

By Frank Keane

Brockington, Mass., Sept. 28.—At Brockington, the race was won by a man who has won four straight races at the New York City track, and it is a story that is being told again.

NEW DEAL IDEAS ARE COMPARED BY HANEY

NEW BUREAU IDEAS ARE COMING

ARE COMPARED

BY HANEY

By LEWIS HANEY
Professor of Economics New York

New York, Sept. 29—I get a letter signed "A meek voter" which criticises some of my articles and

"Meek voter" asks if my ideas aren't merely theories, just as

No, they are not theories in the same sense as the New Deal schemes. The ideas I hold are not

"mine." They are those held by the great majority of recognized economists. Above all, they are

Thus I (and a good many others, too) was able to say stocks were far too high in 1929 and that we were in for a great liquidation; that the Hoover scheme of creating purchasing power by spreading employment and by manufacturing bank credit would not work; that the Federal Farm Board would fail; that NRA would break down, and

Johnson have to quit; that gold buying would be futile; that silver buying would hurt China and weaken our currency; that processing taxes would not help the farmer; that foreign trade cannot be restored by agreements with Russia, etc.

trained in economics and history knows there are economic laws, and that some things cannot be done, no matter how much we experiment. He knows economic life is more than a football game, and that even in football the quarterback has to have a tried

"Meek voter" says all those in misfortune can do their own think-

Well, I would not try to do their jobs or decide their special trade problems.

everybody be willing to set up as an economist? It requires many years of specialized study and knowledge of past experiments.

What we all want is the most expert thought and full knowledge and honest appraisal of past experience. We want the truth.

I will add that many business men are no better fitted to be economists than are laborers.

"Meek Voter" says: "The millions want facts and action. They want to feel that someone is trying hard to ameliorate conditions."

But we all know what happens when we plunge into a job without careful planning. We get action—but we have to do it over

This is the danger of merely experimenting. The whole question is not one of trying but of trying in the correct way. We want true facts and effective action. We don't try to clean house by sweeping the dirt from one corner to another, nor do we build a house by beginning with the roof.

What is "employment?" If it means working at unproductively and wasteful things, it is not good but does great harm. Building needless dams and post-offices does not pay. The taxes and public debt

We want employment, yes, but we want it on a business basis, so laborers can earn wages by pro-

"Meek Voter" says I and other

Well, isn't it necessary first to show a safety margin?

But, more than that, each valid criticism of a wrong policy has in it the germ of a right policy.

So when we say "quit inflation," we mean to go back on the gold standard. When we say "quit spending our money," we mean to

When we criticise the efforts to force credit on individuals who either don't want it or shouldn't have it, we recommend making credit good by establishing a sound and stable currency, by taking the government (politics) out of business and by...

That is the real way to real re-employment.

Dollar Steady in Paris, Sept. 29 (AP)—The American dollar held steadily to its opening price of 15.05 francs (24 1/2 cents).

ing price of 13.00 francs (6.044 cents to the franc) on the unofficial half-day banking market today, unchanged from yesterday's closing figure.

Crude Rubber Steady
New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—Crude rubber futures opened steady, 3 to 5 higher. Oct. unquoted; Dec. 14.91-93; Jan. 15.01; Mar. 15.29-30.

UNITED STATES SMELTING REFINING

The Directors of the United States Smelting Refining and Mining Company have declared a quarterly dividend of 1 1/2% (1 1/2 cents per share) on the common stock of the company.

Preferred Capital Stock and a dividend of two dollars ($2.00) per share on the Common Capital Stock, both payable on October 15, 1934, to stockholders of record at the close of business October 5, 1934.

F. W. BATCHELDER, Secretary.

STOCKS AT MARKET

EARLY SESSION

New York, Sept. 29.—The stock market gave a good account of itself today, firming up in the final minutes of trading after a decline moderately lower during the early dealings.

Mining shares which had been strong and dull during the first hour developed pronounced strength as the session neared its end with United States Smelting, Alaska Juneau and American Smelting and Refining leading the gainers in a point.

RAILS STRONG
The carrier shares were another strong after early reaction. Northern Y. Corp., Central Southern Railway, Chesapeake and Atlantic were in steady demand during the last half hour and reached their peak. In a point they were equal to large gains.

National Aircraft, though, continued the feature of the day, declining off fractionally to a new low for the year.

There was little to feature the utility shares.

TRADE REPORTS
While attention of traders was turned toward President Roosevelt's "fourth annual message" tomorrow night, business continued to be very satisfactory. Crum's reports estimated output in 27,234 units, a decline of 1,000 compared with the corresponding week last year.

Production of cars and trucks in the United States and Canada, as reported by Crum's, was 30 per cent under the August figure and 14 per cent under the same month last year, according to Crum's.

Interest was shown in China's reported protest that the United States was detrimental to Chinese internal economy. It is reported to have been a result of the Chinese move to export a definite effect upon silver stands and currencies.

Click production statistics for the week ended Sept. 22, the final week of the textile report, showed an increase in recent of several per cent. The Cotton Textile Institute estimated production at 60,000 yards against 58,500 in the preceding week.

By International News Service
New York, Sept. 29.—The curtain will fall today on the old order in the world of finance and the other security markets in the nation.

On Monday the government takes control, and the new "master" will be the Securities and Exchange Commission, headed by Joseph P. Kennedy.

The change will occur quietly, but in Wall Street it will mean the end of the old order of finance and the complete victory of the new order.

The markets were the last bastion of the old order, and they went into early in the days of the new order.

Through the NRA. In quick succession followed control of currency, the Federal Reserve Bank, and the Glass-Steagall Act.

Renate stock market investigation last year with its sensational disclosures of manipulation and racketeering resulted in the securities exchange act.

Asset Value of Phoenix Reported
Phoenix Securities Corp. reported for fiscal year ended Aug. 31, 1934, a net income of $1,000,000, a balance sheet showing a net asset value of $1,000,000.

After deducting liquidating value of the preferred stock, the net asset value was $1,000,000.

STOCKS AT MARKET

EARLY SESSION

New York, Sept. 29.—The stock market gave a good account of itself today, firming up in the final minutes of trading after a decline moderately lower during the early dealings.

Mining shares which had been strong and dull during the first hour developed pronounced strength as the session neared its end with United States Smelting, Alaska Juneau and American Smelting and Refining leading the gainers in a point.

RAILS STRONG
The carrier shares were another strong after early reaction. Northern Y. Corp., Central Southern Railway, Chesapeake and Atlantic were in steady demand during the last half hour and reached their peak.

National Aircraft, though, continued the feature of the day, declining off fractionally to a new low for the year.

There was little to feature the utility shares.

TRADE REPORTS
While attention of traders was turned toward President Roosevelt's "fourth annual message" tomorrow night, business continued to be very satisfactory.

Crum's reports estimated output in 27,234 units, a decline of 1,000 compared with the corresponding week last year.

Production of cars and trucks in the United States and Canada, as reported by Crum's, was 30 per cent under the August figure and 14 per cent under the same month last year.

Interest was shown in China's reported protest that the United States was detrimental to Chinese internal economy. It is reported to have been a result of the Chinese move to export a definite effect upon silver stands and currencies.

Click production statistics for the week ended Sept. 22, the final week of the textile report, showed an increase in recent of several per cent.

The Cotton Textile Institute estimated production at 60,000 yards against 58,500 in the preceding week.

By International News Service
New York, Sept. 29.—The curtain will fall today on the old order in the world of finance and the other security markets in the nation.

On Monday the government takes control, and the new "master" will be the Securities and Exchange Commission, headed by Joseph P. Kennedy.

The change will occur quietly, but in Wall Street it will mean the end of the old order of finance and the complete victory of the new order.

The markets were the last bastion of the old order, and they went into early in the days of the new order.

Through the NRA. In quick succession followed control of currency, the Federal Reserve Bank, and the Glass-Steagall Act.

Renate stock market investigation last year with its sensational disclosures of manipulation and racketeering resulted in the securities exchange act.

Asset Value of Phoenix Reported
Phoenix Securities Corp. reported for fiscal year ended Aug. 31, 1934, a net income of $1,000,000, a balance sheet showing a net asset value of $1,000,000.

STOCKS AT MARKET

EARLY SESSION

New York, Sept. 29.—The stock market gave a good account of itself today, firming up in the final minutes of trading after a decline moderately lower during the early dealings.

Mining shares which had been strong and dull during the first hour developed pronounced strength as the session neared its end with United States Smelting, Alaska Juneau and American Smelting and Refining leading the gainers in a point.

RAILS STRONG
The carrier shares were another strong after early reaction. Northern Y. Corp., Central Southern Railway, Chesapeake and Atlantic were in steady demand during the last half hour and reached their peak.

National Aircraft, though, continued the feature of the day, declining off fractionally to a new low for the year.

There was little to feature the utility shares.

TRADE REPORTS
While attention of traders was turned toward President Roosevelt's "fourth annual message" tomorrow night, business continued to be very satisfactory.

Crum's reports estimated output in 27,234 units, a decline of 1,000 compared with the corresponding week last year.

Production of cars and trucks in the United States and Canada, as reported by Crum's, was 30 per cent under the August figure and 14 per cent under the same month last year.

Interest was shown in China's reported protest that the United States was detrimental to Chinese internal economy. It is reported to have been a result of the Chinese move to export a definite effect upon silver stands and currencies.

Click production statistics for the week ended Sept. 22, the final week of the textile report, showed an increase in recent of several per cent.

The Cotton Textile Institute estimated production at 60,000 yards against 58,500 in the preceding week.

By International News Service
New York, Sept. 29.—The curtain will fall today on the old order in the world of finance and the other security markets in the nation.

On Monday the government takes control, and the new "master" will be the Securities and Exchange Commission, headed by Joseph P. Kennedy.

The change will occur quietly, but in Wall Street it will mean the end of the old order of finance and the complete victory of the new order.

The markets were the last bastion of the old order, and they went into early in the days of the new order.

Through the NRA. In quick succession followed control of currency, the Federal Reserve Bank, and the Glass-Steagall Act.

Renate stock market investigation last year with its sensational disclosures of manipulation and racketeering resulted in the securities exchange act.

Asset Value of Phoenix Reported
Phoenix Securities Corp. reported for fiscal year ended Aug. 31, 1934, a net income of $1,000,000, a balance sheet showing a net asset value of $1,000,000.

After deducting liquidating value of the preferred stock, the net asset value was $1,000,000.

TRAGEDY YOUTH READS MAIL AS TRIAL NEARS

By Universal Service

Willam-Barre, Sept. 28.—Who ever heard of a lever carrying a blackboard in his hand while sitting out while enjoying a swim with the girl he planned to marry, unless there was murder in his heart?

With these words District Attorney Thomas M. Lewis reiterated his statement that the State of Pennsylvania will demand the death penalty when Bobby Edwards, accused "American Tragedy" slayer of his sweetheart, goes to trial on Monday.

As the town of Edwinstown awaited with excitement on the eve of a courtroom drama that will parallel in many details Theodore Dreiser's famous novel of youthful love and tragedy, state and defense predicted victory with equal confidence.

READS FAN MAIL
And young Edwards, central figure of the Luzerne County tragedy, read his fan mail in his cell, apparently oblivious to the fact that he must defend his life shortly.

He is accused of murdering Freda McKee, the neighborhood sweetheart who was to bear his child, as the two were swimming in Harvey's Lake on the night of July 26. The state contends that it is in possession of three signed and detailed confessions by the 24-year-old mining engineer.

But the defense has signified that it will attempt to repudiate these alleged confessions on the ground that they were made by a hysterical and frightened boy, in a state of fear.

TELLS OF CONFESSION
Predicting that the widely heralded "American Tragedy" trial would be completed within a week, District Attorney Lewis said:

"Why, it is a case of premeditated murder without a doubt. The Commonwealth will control that Edwards took Miss McKee to Harvey's Lake for the express purpose of killing her."

Lewis scoffed at the idea that Edwards would deny his confession, and said:

"Naturally his attorneys will attempt to save his life, but you can rest assured that my third degree method invoked to secure statements from the accused youth."

"The confessions on which we based our first degree murder charge were signed voluntarily, and the night he confessed, Robert told his father in the presence of state troopers and our detectives that had the person showed in any manner, and that he made his statements of his own will."

Lewis told of taking Edwards to the scene of the crime and re-enacting the tragedy for the benefit of police investigators. He said:

"Edwards, even told Police Chief Ira Stevenson, of Harvey's Lake, where he threw the blackboard with which he slugged Miss McKee, and it was recovered from the water a short time later by a lifeguard."

Port of Boston

THE TIDES
(From U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, Tides and Currents, Boston Harbor, Massachusetts.)

HIGH WATER—LOW WATER
Tides at Boston, Mass., Sept. 29, 1934.

SHIPPING RECORD
DEPARTURE
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

ARRIVAL
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

DEPARTURE
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

ARRIVAL
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

DEPARTURE
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

ARRIVAL
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

DEPARTURE
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

ARRIVAL
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

DEPARTURE
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

ARRIVAL
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

DEPARTURE
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

ARRIVAL
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

DEPARTURE
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

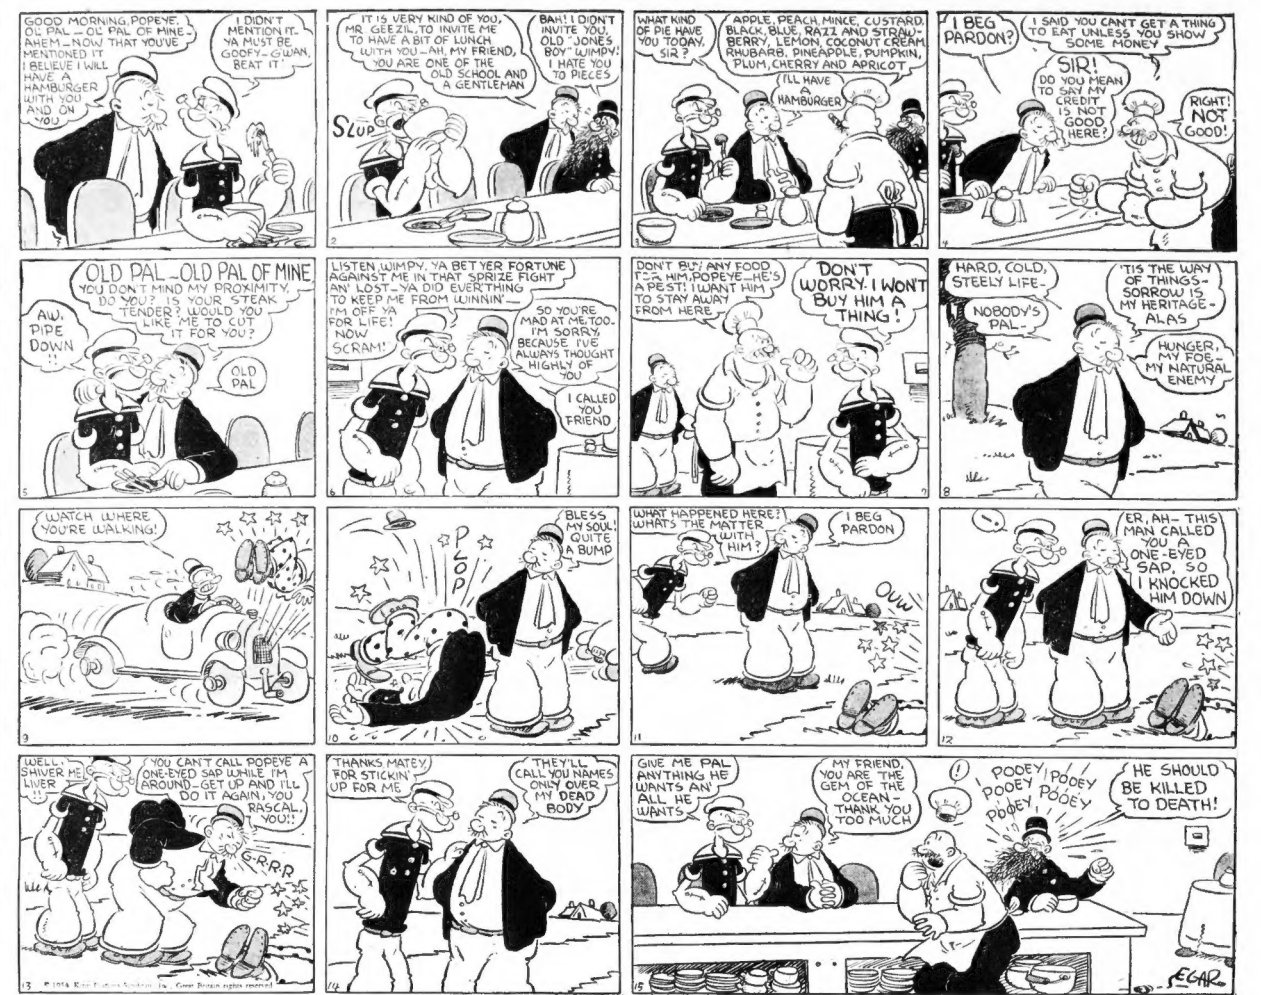

ARRIVAL
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

DEPARTURE
This record shows latest position information subject to change due to weather conditions.

POPEYE

Wimpy's Plans Are Arranged by Car!

Exclusive Big Feature Every Saturday In the BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

Another Popeye Knockout in Next Saturday's Boston Evening American—Be Sure You Get It!

DIVORCED MATE KILLS RIVAL

By Associated Press

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 28.—Charles Farley of Stratford was to have started a belated wedding trip today.

Instead, his bride of three months, a school teacher, was completing arrangements for his funeral.

Farley was shot down late yesterday as he walked from a plant where he was foreman, and police are holding Mrs. Farley's former husband, William H. Dodder, 43, whom they said, confessed, he was charged with first degree murder.

Police omitted Dodder as saying the shooting climaxed a long period of brooding over his former wife's marriage to Farley shortly after her divorce.

Authorities could not say as saying Farley shouted a curse at him and when Dodder crossed the street Farley reached in his pocket. Later Dodder was charged with murder.

He said he pulled his own gun and fired three times.

Ickes Opens Slum Clearance Work

By Associated Press

Atlanta, Sept. 29 (AP)—Secretary Ickes, public works administrator today called on the nation to see that "every child born under the American flag shall have equal opportunity under the law with every other child."

Participating in ceremonies marking the first actual slum clearance in the social history of America, Ickes announced that the Federal Housing Administration, Secretary Ickes, will act as a "millionaire in the social history of America."

ABOUT FACES ART MOGER

Are you a detective? Can you identify people? You don't have to be a second Charlie Chan to solve the identities of the Hollywood people presented daily in the Boston Evening American "About Faces" series. All you have to do is follow the clues that are prepared for you and win a reward. Yes, it is as easy as all that. Visit the newly renovated RKO Keith Boston Theater today, where the screen offers "Charlie Chan in London" and the stage presents RKO "About Faces" series. All you have to do is follow the clues that are prepared for you and win a reward. Yes, it is as easy as all that. Visit the newly renovated RKO Keith Boston Theater today, where the screen offers "Charlie Chan in London" and the stage presents RKO "About Faces" series. All you have to do is follow the clues that are prepared for you and win a reward. Yes, it is as easy as all that. Visit the newly renovated RKO Keith Boston Theater today, where the screen offers "Charlie Chan in London" and the stage presents RKO "About Faces" series.

At this theater that you will be aided by Charlie Chan, the Oriental

NEW CRAWFORD STORE OPENED

Before a crowd of customers and friends that filled the new Crawford Clothes store at 305 Washington street, official greeting was extended to Vice President Jack Jacobs, General Manager Frank Seidenwurm and other executives of the Crawford Clothes organization by Mayor Mansfield.

Mayor Mansfield lauded the Crawford Clothes Company for its expansion program and expressed his hope that the beautiful new and large store would meet with success.

An official city of Boston souvenir book was presented by Mayor Mansfield to Jack Jacobs, president, who declared:

"Crawford Clothes really is no stranger to Boston. This expansion to our new and greater quarters has meant an investment of many thousands of dollars and the giving of extra employment."

"Our success in Boston warranted this expansion because we have enjoyed a rapidly growing business that forced us to seek larger quarters. Our simple creed of giving value for money received will continue to be our policy."

Reality Christian Science Subject

The subject of the Leeson-Sermon to be read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, tomorrow, will be "Reality." The Golden Text will be "Whatever things are honest, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

Crawford Store Opened

Official welcome to the newly opened Crawford Clothes store at 305 Washington street was extended by Mayor Mansfield to David Golden, manager, and Jack Jacobs, vice-president. (Picture by Boston Evening American Staff Photographer.)

DAVID GOLDEN MAYOR MANSFIELD JACK JACOBS

Official welcome to the newly opened Crawford Clothes store at 305 Washington street was extended by Mayor Mansfield to David Golden, manager, and Jack Jacobs, vice-president. (Picture by Boston Evening American Staff Photographer.)

McCormack Elevation in Congress Would Aid N. E.

By Associated Press
Washington, Sept. 29.—Upon the outcome of political jockeying now under way to determine the Speakership of the next House will depend the chances of John W. McCormack of Boston to become the Democratic floor leader.

Elevation of McCormack would give New England a powerful voice in legislation. McCormack would take to the Democratic floor leader of the Massachusetts House before coming to Congress in 1935. McCormack admittedly able and from the North, enjoys both popularity and influence. His New England colleagues may be counted upon to rally around him, and

POLE'S WEALTH TO AID CANCER

By Associated Press

Warsaw, Sept. 28.—One of the wealthiest men in Poland, Count Jacob Potocki, died last night leaving his entire fortune, consisting of nearly 150,000 acres of land and numerous houses and palaces in Poland as well as large holdings abroad, to a medical institution for the treatment of cancer and tuberculosis to be founded in his name.

The count's priceless art treasures he bequeathed to the National Museum and his large library goes to the National Library.

The value of the bequest to the Potocki foundation amounts to more than $100,000,000, which is $20,000,000 of which the estates in Poland are worth about $80,000,000.

Newspaper Union Ends Dublin Strike

Dublin, Irish Free State, Sept. 29 (AP)—The longest general strike in the history of newspaper publishing was ended today at the threshold of its tenth week.

The Irish Transport Workers' Union accepted the publishers' terms by ballot, 299 voting for and 29 against.

Newton Police Ban Walking on Grass

Newton police have served notice that no strolling will be allowed on the grass reservation of Commonwealth avenue.

Officers reported that a desire to walk on the grass rather than on the gravel sidewalk had become all too common recently.

GOING OUT FOR BUSINESS
29 Church St. Open, 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m.
29 Church St. Open, 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m.
29 Church St. Open, 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m.
29 Church St. Open, 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m.

